The Traveling Downbeats

The Traveling Downbeats is an Atlanta based band who have steadily built a loyal following playing music throughout the southeast

This group of seasoned musicians plays 80's-90's rock, classic rock, a little country and love to perform at any event dedicated to a great cause

Our World Hope Balloon Festival

“We chose to participate and donate to these events to help children who have special needs get the treatment that they need, along with a social environment that will help them along the way.

We try to help in any way we can while also providing great music and entertainment for all”

~LeAnne Wesley

- Recently they performed at the Autism Awareness Benefit Show where all proceeds were donated to the Henry County, GA Autism Programs

- They have played at Our World Hope Balloon Festival and all proceeds are donated to Our World School, a school specifically designed for special needs children

Lake Lanier Association Shore Sweep

“Lake Lanier is the main water supply for Atlanta and attracts almost 12 million visitors a year. It is 59 square miles of water with 692 miles of shore line. The Lake Lanier Association focuses on Lake Lanier year round and in September of each year, hosts Shore Sweep, the largest single day clean up event in GA (possibly the largest in the southeastern US) where we clean up the lake and its tributaries”

~Robert Eidson

Shore Sweep covers 3 counties, has 12 drop off locations manned by volunteer “Captains” and historically, we average 1,000 volunteers collecting 50 tons (100,000 lbs. of trash)

Robert's involvement with the Lake Lanier Association has been:

- Volunteer, Captain - Site Manager
- Super Captain - Manager of Captains
- Board Member, Extreme Team - Sent to the worst of the worst areas
- Floater - Sent where needed

2019 was a record year with 1,800 volunteers collecting over 80 tons (160,000 lbs.) of trash out of our local waterways

Robert also volunteers at these charities!

- Roberts favorite types of volunteerism is to pick up trash out of waterways. Plastics makes up vast majority of trash in waterways. As these plastics break down, fish eat the small pieces (referred to as micro-plastics) thinking it's food

- Not only does this impact fresh water fish but also saltwater, as much of the pollution in our oceans originates from fresh water supplies

“One of the other reasons why I truly enjoy these events, is the fact that everything gets checked at the door for the good of the community. People attending will find polar opposite political stickers parked next to each other, city councilmen, county commissioners and the Mayor picking up trash next to other volunteers, teenagers working with senior citizens...I've found picking up trash is a fantastic equalizer”

~Robert Eidson

Keeping Watch Over Our Waters Since 1994

ACPS donations from a few of our furry family members!

- We chose ACPS because of our common love of animals and the opportunity to donate as a team

- The total donations delivered to ACPS resulted in (4) boxes filled with pet cleaning supplies, dry and wet food, leashes and toys
